

WELSH CUP REGULATIONS – 2022

Enclosed please find details of the draw (by Neville Richards). Please arrange to play the match online with your opponents. It is important that you use a fifth and/or sixth player to avoid being unable to play matches on time. The match is to be played in four stanzas of eight boards each. A team may have five or six people playing, and change their line-up each stanza.

Captains should arrange a toss beforehand: one method of doing this is to decide who is heads and who is tails and ask someone uninvolved to toss without telling them who is heads and asking them to tell both captains the answer, The winner of the toss can choose to seat his team after the opponents in either odd numbered stanzas or even stanzas. If there is a tie, four extra boards should be played with no seating rights and repeated if necessary.

Enclosed are details of the event organizer. If your team's details are not complete nor correct please let me know. After the match, please will BOTH captains submit the results giving the details of who played for them, also their WBU number if you have not told me previously, who won, and how many stanzas were won or drawn by your team (see website for Submission Form). If you fielded a team of more than four it is important that you tell me how many stanzas each player won or drew.
