

Strictly Come Teaching Champions!

The first ever Strictly Come Teaching Championship was won by PRO Jo Bentley and his Celebrity Learner James Williams! Congratulations to both of them! They are shown here proudly displaying their GLITTERBALL TROPHIES!

Celebrity Learner James was scouted and signed by Junior Co-Ordinator Sooz Nesom and coached by Sooz and Mark Roderick. He has been playing bridge for less than 18 months. He was strategically teamed by them with Jo Bentley and the rest as they say is history!

On the back of his Strictly Come Teaching success James represented the Welsh Junior International team at the recent Junior Camrose in Newport!

James has now of course been disqualified from entering future Strictly events as a Celebrity Learner and has been promoted to the rank of PRO so is seeking a Celebrity Learner of his own to partner in the next Strictly!

Jo Bentley is a stalwart member of the Welsh Junior International Team. Such is his bridge prowess that the bookies did not allow bets on this partnership winning Strictly – indeed this was such a likely victory that we almost had his name engraved on the trophy before the first card was played!

Due to the disqualification of his Celebrity Learner partner, Jo is now available as a PRO for the next Strictly event so is open to offers from keen Celebrity Learners eager to increase their chance of stardom by signing with the man of the moment!
